

On induced 5-cycles

Florian Pfender

University of Colorado Denver

Two old problems in graph theory are to determine the maximum number of induced 5-cycles on graphs on n vertices, both for the class of all graphs and for the class of triangle-free graphs.

Recently, both of these questions have been answered for large n with the use of flag algebras. In this talk, we will describe how to extend these recent results to all n .